

Why would you consider overturning a good law that protects consumers from unwanted calls. Seems to me like someone is in bed with the telemarketers.